Report by: Scoutbridge Scouting Department

Fa Yera Janneh is a tall and powerful central midfielder who brings a strong physical presence to midfield. Currently playing for IK Kongahälla, he holds a crucial role within the team, contributing effectively in both defensive and attacking phases.

With the ball, Janneh is difficult to dispossess. When he drives forward, he uses his strength and control to carry the ball over long distances, transitioning play from his own half into advanced areas. He has the vision to deliver incisive through balls into dangerous positions and is regularly involved in the final third, often appearing on the scoresheet and providing assists.

Defensively, he is aggressive and combative. He excels in regaining possession, both through direct challenges and by intercepting passes. His aerial presence is also an asset, making him valuable in defensive duels and set-piece situations.

Tactically, Janneh fits best in a 4-3-3 system, operating as a number 6 or 8 where his ball-winning, physicality, and ball-carrying can be fully utilized. He can also provide value in a 4-4-2, where his passing range and creativity allow him to operate effectively on the flank if required.

A key area of development is his orientation and scanning before receiving the ball. With greater consistency in this aspect, he will improve his awareness of space and options, enabling him to play quicker and more effectively under pressure.

Given his physical profile, technical strengths in ball progression, goal contribution, and aggressive defensive style, Janneh has the attributes to play in Ettan Fotboll (Sweden, third tier) next season and make an impact. With continued development, particularly in orientation and game intelligence, he has the potential to progress even further.
