Report by: Scoutbridge Scouting Department

Kamal Fakhouri is a young goalkeeper showing strong technical and mental qualities for his age. He is composed in possession, confident when building from the back, and demonstrates good decision-making under pressure. His ability to stay calm with the ball at his feet allows his team to maintain control and progress play effectively.

Defensively, he blocks shots well from a variety of angles and shows excellent reactions in one-on-one situations. A standout strength is his speed to the ground, an essential attribute for goalkeepers looking to compete at higher levels, enabling him to cover low shots with efficiency.

Beyond technical qualities, Fakhouri shows a driven and ambitious personality, which supports his development potential. His mentality, combined with his skill set, indicates a promising pathway towards higher-level football as he matures physically and gains more match experience.

Key areas of development include refining his command of the penalty area, especially in dealing with aerial balls and set pieces, and continuing to build physical strength to handle senior-level demands.

With his technical ability on the ball, strong shot-stopping foundation, and ambitious mindset, Kamal Fakhouri has the tools to progress significantly in the coming years.
