SCOUTING REPORT – ADAM GAILANY

Date of Birth: 2009

Nationality: Swedish

Position: Striker / Winger

Report by: ScoutBridge Scouting Department

Adam Gailany is a dynamic and hard-working attacking player with a strong finishing instinct and relentless energy in the final third. Operating primarily as a striker or winger, he is at his best when using his pace and timing to run in behind defensive lines. His ability to shoot accurately even at high speed makes him a constant threat on transitions and counter-attacks.

Gailany's defining characteristics are his aggressiveness, endurance, and pressing intensity. He thrives in high-tempo systems, where he can press defenders, force mistakes, and immediately transition into dangerous attacking situations. This makes him particularly well-suited for counter-attacking sides in a 4-4-2, where he can partner with a target striker who drops deep while Adam attacks the space behind. He would also excel in high-pressing teams that value intensity and forward pressure.

When used as a winger, Gailany demonstrates solid crossing ability and intelligent movement off the ball, often creating space for others through his constant runs. His mentality and fighting spirit make him a valuable asset in both attacking and defensive phases.

Areas for development include improving his hold-up play when receiving the ball with his back to goal and becoming more involved in open play by linking with midfielders and retaining possession under pressure.

With continued progression in these areas, Adam Gailany has the tools to become a key player at P17 Division 1 level in 2025, and with refinement, a potential contributor to an Allsvenskan P1 in the near future.

ScoutBridge assessment: Adam Gailany is a high-intensity attacker — fast, aggressive, and goal-driven. His pace, work rate, and finishing instinct make him a valuable modern forward with genuine upside for higher levels.
