

Scouting Report:

Sander Karlsson

Born: 2009

Club: Hammarby TFF P16

Position: Goalkeeper

Height: 190 cm

Sander Karlsson is a highly promising young goalkeeper whose profile combines impressive physical attributes with composure and maturity beyond his years. Standing at 190 cm at just 15 years of age, he already possesses the size and presence that are rare to find in players of his age group.

One of Sander's standout qualities is his ability to distribute the ball with confidence. Comfortable with both feet, he provides security in build-up play and is capable of initiating attacks with precise long kicks that stretch opposition lines. His calmness under pressure when receiving or releasing the ball allows his team to maintain structure even when pressed.

Defensively, Sander shows excellent qualities in one-on-one situations. His strong positioning, quick reflexes, and composure make him very difficult to beat in close-range duels, while his timing in stepping out helps him neutralize dangerous situations before they fully develop. He also demonstrates "pondus" in his role, with a commanding presence and communication skills that organize his back line and instill confidence in his teammates.

The main area for development lies in his aerial game, particularly in consistently dealing with crosses and high balls through confident catching or effective boxing. As he continues to grow physically and refines his timing in these situations, this will elevate him from a strong youth goalkeeper to a dominant one at senior level.

With his rare combination of height, distribution, reflexes, and leadership, Sander Karlsson has the tools to become an excellent goalkeeper. With the right development pathway and consistent work on his aerial ability, he has the potential to grow into a future Allsvenskan-level goalkeeper.
